For the second week in a row, the Randolph Oilers scored a defensive touchdown.

Too bad that's all they got.

Randolph fell to 1-2 in the Eastern Football League Friday night, losing to Brockton, 28-7.

Kevin Callahan returned a third-quarter fumble 8 yards for the host Oilers' only score. Dave Canavan kicked the extra point.

Last week, EFL Defensive Player of the Week Charles Williams returned an interception for Randolph's only score in a 7-6 road victory over the Rhode Island Prowlers.

After a scoreless first quarter, Brockton posted 22 points in the second to put the game away.

Gabe Boatwright scored on a 20-yard run off a reverse, Anthony Comer passed for two touchdowns, and a blocked punt set up a 33-yard field goal by Bucs kicker Kyle Johnson.
